Gentle Dove Farm on French TV! The producers from the French TV station Equidia are making a documentary about the NYPD mounted unit and wanted to include a section on the training and relationship with the horse. We were honored to have Gentle Dove Farm be a part of their production! The documentary will be aired this fall in France and is part of a series about the mounted police around the world: England, Canada, Australia...

We spent the day filming multiple facets of police horse training. The French filming crew was a delight to work with throughout the process. It was very interesting to see how a TV show is created. In the interview we discussed our experience with the mounted unit and today as a trainer. Then it was Shamrock's opportunity to be a star as he gave a live demonstration going through complex obstacles to exemplify the trust needed in police mounts and how the training we provide builds the partnership of the horse and rider. It was so exciting to be involved in this tribute to the NY mounted police! Visit the Gentle Dove Farm UTube channel to see a preview of the TV Show Trailer promoting the show that will be aired Fall 2011 in France!
